VOL. 3 NO. 14

FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1968

MILITARY ADDRESS:

PFC GLEN R. SCHUCK
US 54814623
A Co., 5th Bn., 46th Inf.
198 LIB
APO San Francisco, California 96219

GEORGE BROWN of the Tool Room submits this. Usually in this day and age, girls don't find their escorts parking the car, running around the other side to open the door, then taking the elbow of the young miss to help her alight. Young BOB BERNS D/71 did this the other day and collected his reward. Three hours at St. Mary's Hospital and one broken finger. It seems he slammed the car door on his finger.

Some people think a factory is not a romantic place. We are happy to be able to say this is not necessarily true, because last Saturday a factory romance culminated in wedding bells for "ZIGGY" ZASADA D/35 and JOYCE SAXE, Timekeeper in the same department. We wish the happy couple all the best and think D/35 should throw a party.

The following speaks for itself:

Pilferage can be disastrous to any company large or small. Control of this type of petty larceny should and must be the concern of all individuals connected with a company; because in reality the thief is stealing from all. The pretext of non-involvement is simply an expression of apathy and/or ignorance. If such destructive practices are to be controlled - - - if you are concerned about continued employment tomorrow, next month or next year - - - then you must get actively interested and involved in attempting to stamp out pilferage.

The following poem was submitted some time ago by DON BLANCHETTE'S niece. It concerns retiree LEO "PAPPY" GREEN who passed away just about a year ago.

"PAPPY"

I want to tell you
Of our beloved "Pappy",
The one who cheered when sad,
and made us happy.

He was a good man
So thoughtful and kind,
He had a keen sense of humor,
And a quick and clever mind.

Some people may not realize,
How good he's really been,
And to me he always will be,
One of my most highly favored men.

He knew, like all,
Sometime he'd have to go,
And I know he is in heaven,
God just couldn't say no.

We think of him still,
Even though he's gone,
But there's no darkness for "Pappy",
For him, a new day was dawned.

OLD TIMER OF THE WEEK

BOWLING
by Don Baylor

MATTHEW LESZCZEWICZ started to work here on January 17, 1938. He left high school to work at Turk Mfg. as an apprentice tool and die maker. When he came here he continued in the same program in our Tool Room. He became a full fledged tool and die maker in 1940 and is still going strong today.

"MITCH" and his wife VENROE have been married for 30 years and live at 336 South Center, Bradley. They have no children.

He courageously admits being a sox fan. It's not easy to make such an admission today. The same is nearly true of the Bears to whom he also gives his support.

Getting information from MITCH is not easy and therefore this piece is of necessity rather short. You see he is one of those "squares" we wrote about a couple of weeks ago. Not very exciting to work at a plant thirty years and never be late one day, average absenteeism one or two days a year, do your job, do it well and never bother anyone. We should have more unexciting people like MITCH.

WILLARD ESSINGTON picked up the 4-7-9-10 split.

The Mowers after leading the league since last December 1st have finally relinquished the lead to the Saws by 1 point. Next week the Last being Position Night means the Saws and Mowers lock horns again and for the championship. A very fine way to climax the bowling season.

Not to be funny, but the race for the cellar between Furniture and the Tillers has been quite a battle. They have changed positions several times.

NOTE: Bowling Banquet on May 9th, Kankakee Legion. MENU - Steak (with fringe benefits).

Between now and Banquet time be thinking of your officers for next bowling season.
