PROPHECY

For my first time in ten years, I was going back to Bradley in a large transport airplane. Imagine my excitement! In a few hours I shall greet all my old classmates. Looking up from my magazine which was edited by Charles Voorhees, I saw Donna Larkins coming toward me dressed in an air hostess uniform. She had always carried this one ambition in her mind, and now she was a great success. We chatted for a while and soon she told me it was time to land. The big plane, piloted so capably by Lloyd Marlaire, came to a sudden halt. I stepped off and hurried to a taxi. It was a great surprise when Edward Kiedzorick said, "Where to, Madam?" I got in the front seat of the cab with him and we talked of the good times we used to have in Miss Brook's English Class.

According to my wishes he pulled up in front of the Bradley Drug Store. I instructed him not to forget the Reunion, then bade him farewell and went inside. While waiting for a clerk, my eyes drifted to a diploma which was hanging above the counter. Fred Beach's name was on it and below were the words, "Registered Pharmacist." As it was a warm day, I decided to have a soda. I looked up and there stood Leonard Martin who was now a soda-jerker. While waiting for the soda, I noticed a very lovely couple. It was Betty and Bob Martin, who came in to get something for their crying twins. Talking with her, we recalled the great times we had had in school. She also told me of the great success Bob had made in baseball, and of her career as a housewife.

Finishing my soda, I decided to go to the gymnasium. As I went outside, I met Stan Leszczewicz who is proprietor of the "Colony Club." He has for entertainment, that great dance team Ludia and Joresco who formerly were known as Frances Burkhalter and Leon Slovikoski. Music is furnished by Francis Amiot and his orchestra. The drummer is Donald Johnson and the Trumpet player is Raymond Outsen. In High School these boys were trained by Donald Arthur. The Blue Singer is Leota Roush whose voice was discovered by a talent scout, Harvey Hackley, who is going to take her to Hollywood in a few weeks.

After exchanging greetings, we started for our destination. When we arrived at the gym, I noticed two young men standing together and talking very much in earnest. It was Red Mulligan and Ray Sanor who are now Bradley's best Undertakers. They told me that LaVern Hahs, who went to college four years, is now a coach at Illinois. He is also engaged to be married to Juanita Lucas. She became a reporter for the "Bradley Times," which is now edited by Hal McCleary, who had taken this paper over when school was finished. His assistant editor is Eugene Marquis.

Standing in a corner I saw Alpha Englehart and Gladys Hacker. Alpha is now a great lawyer, and she has won many cases, and made a great name for herself. Gladys had studied to be a Nurse and is now working at the Silver Cross Hospital.

Ah! Who comes here--Junior McCue and Shirley Heinze. Junior is now manager of a "Meat Market," in the city of Kankakee, and Shirley is now an English teacher at Bradley High. She has had this position for three years. She said that Arlene LaGesse is employed at David Bradley's where she is a secretary and has charge of all the girls in the outer office.

Leonard Klenzak, who is now Elmer Stump's Chauffeur, sat in a long limousine in front of the gym. Elmer is a Traveling Salesman, just returned from an extended trip to Europe.

Of all the group, Albert Legris was the only one who couldn't make the reunion. He was in Washington making a speech to the "Future Farmers of America."

I was very happy to have been able to make this trip and to see that all my classmates had become so successful. As I went back home, I began to reminisce and wished that we were all once again back in dear old Bradley High.

CLASS HISTORY

One cool September morning in the year 1936, a group of 74 boys and girls gathered on the steps of Bradley High to embark on a four year voyage to distant lands of strange and wondrous sights and experiences.

The captain was to be Mr. Hall and chief pilot Miss Ryan. First mate was Betty Kassman and the rest of her crew were Fred Beach, Gladys Hacker and Rose Smietanski. The tour included a nine months stay in Freshmen Land. None of us had ever been there before but we had heard many reports from others who had traveled there. While we sojourned there we became acquainted with the wonders of Algebra and some became so entangled in it that they never rejoined our party. Others spent a great deal of time in English groves feasting on poetry, verbs and book-reports.

A few entered Latin Peninsula and became lost in the fourth conjugation and ablative absolute. Some were charmed with General Science mountains, but didn't succeed in passing the barrier. We all enjoyed our stay and roamed in these treasure places until, at the end of this nine months stay, we were given pass-ports enabling us to go on to Sophomore land.

The next fall a smaller group, 51, embarked for Sophomore land. Our pilot was Miss Money with Charles Voorhees, Betty Kassman, Ray Sanor and Bob Martin as assistants. Our band of students landed filled with enthusiasm. Some hastened to scale geometry heights and found there pleasures of sight and intellect, although a few did not like the rough going and deserted the group at the first opportunity. Many found keen pleasure in digging into the historic mounds, and found there the records of the lives of many great men. All of the group were forced to take a sail on English Lake and to take frequent plunges into Oral Ray.

Some of the more active occasionally tried to sneak across the narrow channel to Freshman land and annoy the natives there but the pilot quickly quelled these attempts. The pilot always complained that the travelers were more interested in themselves than in the treasures to be found on the island. A few liked the island so well that they were granted a permit to remain for a second season.

Our next tour was to Junior continent. Our assistants were then Stanley Leszczewicz, Leonard Martin, Wanda Dominick and Bob Martin. Mr. Jones assisted Miss Money as pilot. Various localities were explored on this continent such as English heights, bottomless history pits, Shorthand depths, and Typing plains. Football and basketball were stressed and a few of the boys were lucky enough to take a short detour to the State Basketball Tournament. Clubs such as Glee Club, Hi-Y, and Y-D, added to the fun on board. After a bit of hard work, we put in port for a short time and entertained the Seniors at a Prom.

With few exceptions passports were issued for the next tour to Senior Haven. The next September our little group of 30 embarked upon the last year of its tour in the good ship Bradley High. Our pilots were Mr. Jones and Miss Hendricks. Assistants were Stanley Leszczewicz, Betty Kassman, Ray Sanor, and Arlene LaGesse. On landing at Senior Haven we were given quite a choice of places to explore. New delights met us on every hand. Pleasures such as we had never dreamed of were ours. A trip to Bradley Tech, Skip day, the Prom and Class Day made the last days fly by. All too soon the year passed, and the pilots called us together for the last time, telling us we must hasten on to make room for others, and embark now on the sea of life choosing our own ship which we must sail for ourselves.

Thus, at last we were left tearfully on the shore watching the ship fade away in the distance, with only our memories and our diplomas to recall the glad days aboard the good old ship Bradley High. We were determined to make our mark in life and live up to our motto--

"NOT AT THE TOP, BUT CLIMBING!"

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1940 of Bradley High School publish this to be our last Will and Testament.

Stanley Leszczewicz leaves his ability of leadership to the President of the Senior Class of 1940-41.

Donna Larkins leaves her basketball technique to Doris Englehart, Mary Jane Stuckey, and Adeline Wasetis.

Charles Voorhees leaves his track ability to Virgil Marlaire.

Shirley Heinze leaves her ability to get along with the teachers to Constance Mulligan.

LaVern Hahs leaves his ability to play center to Mark Marlaire.

Betty Kassman and Leota Roush leave their striking dimples to Geraldine Gemmeke and Margery Hackley.

Jesse McCue leaves his managerial ability to Eldon Saltsider.

Raymond Sanor leaves his ability to drive a car to James Kolwelter.

Hal McCleary leaves his natural curly hair to Glenn Lehnig.

Gladys Hacker leaves her school girl blushes to Opal Bisping.

Leonard Martin leaves his technique with the women to Dick Thompson.

Alpha Englehart leaves her blond hair to Mildred Hartman.

Leon Slovikoski, Leonard Klenzak, and Donald Johnson leave their football ability to William Ponickvar, John Casino, and Leonard Bujnowski.

Robert Martin leaves his expert left-hand passing and basket-making to Harold Knickerbocker.

Wanda Dominick leaves her quick temper (but not Irish) to Mary DeVore.

Leonard Mulligan and Eugene Marquis leave their carrot-red hair to Darlene Marquis and Frank Richmond.

Elmer Stump leaves his ability to mind his own business to Leonard Hack.

Albert Legris leaves his farming ability to Francis DuVoisin.

Raymond Outsen leaves his humorous disposition to William McAtee.

Juanita Lucas leaves her shyness to Harriet Tambling and Wanda Hertz.

Francis Amiot leaves his brawny build to Mark Larimer.

Lloyd Marlaire leaves his quietness in the Study Hall to Howard Duchene and Mamie Casino.

Francis Burkhalter leaves her "gift of gab" to Madonna Bleau and Doris Christensen.

Harvey Hackley leaves his bashfulness to Eugene Grant.

Arlene LaCesse leaves her cheerleading ability to the student who takes her place next year.

In Witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seal this Thirty-first day of May, in the Year of our Lord, One-Thousand Nine-Hundred and Forty.

ALUMNI

Upon interviewing the Senior Class of 1939, we find each of them indulging in the following occupations:

Norma Bleau, our Senior Class President, is employed at the Easy Way Stove Works where she is doing office work.

June Ralph, who is looking forward to a career in the field of nursing, is now in training at St. Mary's Hospital in Kankakee.

Marian Prairie is furthering her education by preparing herself for a career in the business world. She is continuing her studies at Gallagher's School of Business and also working part time at McClellan's.

Frances Klonosky is employed at the Kankakee Departmental School, where she is doing secretarial work.

Adeline Boudreau is employed part time at the Kankakee County Farm Bureau Association in the Volkman Building.

Irene Troutman is at home at the present time.

At McClellan's we find Elizabeth Starasinich, who is clerking.

Eleanor Smith is employed at the Bear Brand Hosiery Company.

On "Bradley's Broadway," at the National Tea Company, Joe Dominick is proving himself a very able clerk.

Devon Cart, who formerly had been employed at Sears, Roebuck and Company is now at home.

Tony Toluiszis is lending assistance to his brother Paul by working for the Toliuszis Delicious Bakery.

Glenn Mulligan is employed at the Bear Brand Hosiery Company at the present time.

Robert Ryan is proving himself to be quite a businessman. He is employed in the office of the Turk Manufacturing Company.

Clarence Stoltz is learning something of interior decorating since he is now helping his father.

Ross Flora is another who has a white collar job. He is working at Adelman's Shoe Store.

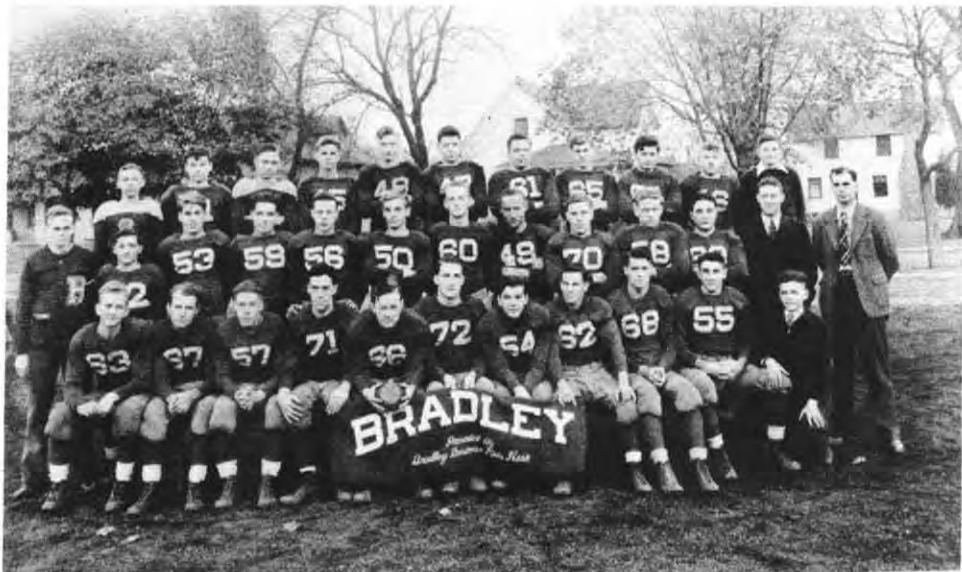

Robert Kolwelter is employed at the Turk Manufacturing Company.

Last but not least, at the David Bradley Manufacturing Company, we find Clyde Mulligan, Paul Legris, and Delbert McCammon.
