BRADLEY-BOURBONNAIS
Community High School

Dedication

To Superintendent Carl Hughes, whose kindness and understanding, untiring efforts, and friendship, both as teacher and counselor, have made Bradley High School a place we shall always remember, we, the Senior Class of 1949, respectfully dedicate this volume.

ADMINISTRATION

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

At a school election in December, 1940, it was voted that a new high school be constructed, to be called the Bradley-Bourbonnais Community High School. Since January, 1941, Bradley High School has been operating under that name. The new school will operate under the same title.

In 1942, a tract of land, approximately ten acres, on North Street between Prairie and Center Avenues, was purchased. An architect was hired and plans for the new building were begun. The plans were almost complete when all work was discontinued until after the war. When the war came to an end, new blueprints and new plans were made, and a different architect was hired. On August 10, 1948, the ground was broken and the building was finally under way. The laying of the cornerstone took place on September 25, 1948.

The new school contains six spacious classrooms, two commerce rooms, a study hall-library (with table-chairs), two science rooms, and a large homemaking room. Besides these, there are two separate offices for the principal and his secretary. There is to be a work-room where the duplicator, mimeograph and other items of this sort are kept. Lockers are to be placed in the main corridors. The shop is in another building with the heating plant. There is also a combined auditorium and gymnasium that will have a seating capacity of 2,400. It will be a school of which we can be proud.

CLASSES

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

On September 4, 1945, somewhat bewildered, and perhaps a little shy and eager, sixty green freshmen entered the doors of Bradley High School. Having reached the goal of every ambitious grammar school student, we began our classes with some anxiety and wonder. What did the future hold for us in the next four years?

After the excitement of initiation and a few other once-important. new activities, we settled down for our first year of high school work. Chosen to lead the class through the "green" year were Al Grill, Denny Rasmussen, Sharon Smith and Delores LaGesse. Our guiding sponsors were Mr. Jepsen and Miss Fleming. But, by the time we had finally caught on to the daily routine and were getting used to high school, we found that we had passed our first goal; and summer vacation was just around the corner.

By 1946, the once-called "greenies" were full-fledged sophomores. With a sure sense of relief, we took on a more grown-up air. Looking around us, we found that several of the old faces were missing and new ones had been added, making a total enrollment of fifty-one in our class. Our sponsors this year were Miss Voelker, who replaced Miss Fleming, and Mr. Jepsen. With the officers, Joe Metschuleit, Pat Hasemeyer, Sharon Smith, and Delores Frisch, to lead us, we were quite an enthusiastic group. For extra-curricular activities, we enjoyed several parties, including the Freshman-Sophomore dance which proved to be quite a success. Our second year went quite smoothly, and, at the year's end, we were ready to start on the third lap of our journey.

When 1947 finally came around, we could at last face the world as upper class-men. This year, we joined the Seniors and helped with initiations. We felt quite confident of ourselves and took part in all the activities. To lead the class through its third year, we, as juniors, elected Darel Hale, Delores Frisch, Sharon Smith and Ray Burkhalter. This year we had two new class sponsors—Miss McWhorter and Mr. Hughes. Anxious to earn money for the Junior-Senior prom, we displayed our abilities as salesmen and sold pencils, pins and refreshments at the basketball games. We also were hosts and hostesses at a Junior dance, and before too long we had accumulated quite a sum of money to add to our meager funds. In May came the final social event of the year—the Junior-Senior prom. It was held May 26 in the Gold Room of the Kankakee Hotel, with music for dancing furnished by Chuck Granger and the Downbeats. Reigning queen and king were Margery Kirchner and Denny Rasmussen.

The final pages of this history found Glen Ziegle, Pearl Wulff, Margery Kirchner and David Craig presiding over forty-nine distinguished seniors, with Miss Steller and Mr. Skalsky as class sponsors. Among the many activities of the year, we sponsored the first Homecoming Dance ever to be held in Bradley. It was held in the gym with music by Earl Betourne.

The beginning of the end came with baccalaureate services; then on the night of May 28, we proudly stepped up to receive our diplomas. Our long journey was, at last, completed,

So we, the "forty-niners," bid you all farewell and wish you the best of luck in the new high school.

CLASS PROPHECY

Dear Diary:

May 27, 1959! What a wonderful day this has been! For months I have looked forward to this day, but it seemed as though it would never come. Now it has come and gone, but the memory will linger for a long time. This day our class held its first reunion.

It was turning back the pages of time to see and talk to old classmates. It was fun to learn what the boys and girls had been doing since graduation. I have been able to follow through the newspapers the careers of some of the more famous.

There is ROSEMARY MANENO, for instance, who has gained fame as a feature attraction in the "Skating Follies" which recently appeared on Broadway. Then, too, there is HOWARD COTTON, who has become such a box-office idol. I suppose there are few people in the country who have not seen at least one of Howard's pictures. He is the current heart throb of the bobby-soxers.

Our reunion was to begin with dinner at six. We had decided to hold it in Bradley's newest night spot, "The Gaytime Ballroom." I wanted to be on hand to see my old classmates as they arrived, so I called a taxi to pick me up. I decided to wear a pale yellow gown, which I had purchased in Paris where I had attended a Fashion Revue as a representative from Macy's Department Store.

I looked out the window and saw the taxi just pulling up in front of the house. To my surprise, it was driven by DENNY RASMUSSEN. I rushed down to greet Denny. He told me that he had been offered a job in Hollywood but had refused because he didn't want to leave the Legion basketball for so long.

On the way to the ballroom, we stopped to pick up BETTY BOCK, who is at present teaching the kindergarten in the Bradley schools. She was very striking in a light brown suit.

As we were nearing the meeting place, a sudden roar on our left momentarily stopped all conversation. We looked out the window and recognized DAVID CRAIG riding past on a bright red motorcycle. Betty told me that he was starred in a motorcycle show, being billed as "Dave and His Daredevils."

At last we arrived at the ballroom, where a half dozen or so of my old classmates were already gathered and waiting.

There was GLEN ZIEGLE, who had been president of our class, dressed in a dark blue gabardine suit and with a red corduroy hat, hanging, rather than placed, on the back of his head. His full-time occupation is dancing instructor at Nat's Dancing Studio in Kankakee. MARIE STRIEGLE, looking very trim in a white tulle gown, was standing near. She is head nurse in a Joliet hospital.

At a nearby table, sat PAT HASEMEYER and AL GRILL in an intense discussion of baseball. Pat had made a diagram showing Al the triple play which he college physical education students had recently made in a tournament. Al was listening intently, if somewhat skeptically; he is a member of the Chicago White Sox.

Pat and Al were interrupted by the arrival of JOE METSCHULEIT, and, close on his heels, RAY BURKHALTER. We all knew that Joe was rapidly gaining fame by his speed in running the hurdles. We were all very pleased, but not greatly surprised, when he told us that he was now in training for the coming Olympic games. The word "training" was the cue for Ray to start off on his sales talk. He is so proud of his muscle-building course and the young Atlases he is turning out.

CLASS PROPHECY

A series of high-pitched giggles suddenly drew our attention to the door. DOLORES FALKENHAN came marching in and, behind her, in rapid order, came a number of laughing young ladies. Dolores was bringing in her all-girl orchestra. She has certainly done well.

While the orchestra was tuning up, we stood and watched others of our class making their entrances. Probably the most sensational entrance of the evening was made by DELORES LaGESSE and DORIS VAN HORN. Looking as if they were prepared to parade in a fashion show, they caused every eye to turn their way as they swept through the door. We soon learned that both of them were sales managers at Marshall Field & Co.

LOU RAPP arrived to tell us that he is proprietor of a sports equipment store in Chicago. His slow grin was as infectious as ever. Then came, in rapid succession, BOB HONZIK, who is reaping a fortune in, of all things, a mink farm; VINCENT POTRZEBSKI who is Bob's right-hand man; and JOE SIKES, who is an airline pilot.

When the noise caused from these entrants had abated somewhat, we were greeted with a very rare surprise. KATY DOTY, neat as a pin in a smart Wave uniform, came tripping through the door. She informed us that she was all set for another four-year hitch.

Then, to add to our consternation, Seaman JIM HUNTER arrived. We were all slightly dizzy by this time; but Jim was quick to say that he liked the Navy. During the course of the conversation, he mentioned that he had given SHIRLEY KRAY, the Home Ec teacher in Bradley, some timely tips on peeling spuds and scrubbing the deck.

While Katy and Jim were swapping sea stories, I wandered over to see what PETE GERACI and FRANCES VENTURA were discussing with such interest. It seems that Pete now has an eat shoppe which specializes in spaghetti a la Geraci, while Frances runs a candy store in Kankakee. They were talking shop—discussing business conditions and trading recipes. Both claim outstanding abilities in their respective fields.

I crossed the room to where THERESA CARON, all smiles and brightness, was talking to FRANCES SANOR. They were very busily discussing the modeling profession. Theresa works as a model for toothpaste ads, while Frannie, a Powers model, recently completed school in New York. She told us that MARY LOU ROBBINS was now finishing the same course.

MARY LOU MEENTS was there, too. In her droll manner, she told me that, after graduating from Gallagher's, she had worked as an accountant for a while. Then she slyly added, "But now my two red-headed children take up most of my time."

Some of the other girls had married, too. CHARLENE told us she had become very tired of a complicated name like HASEMEYER, so she had it changed to Pelehowski. Then, MARJORIE PELLETIER had found a practical purpose for those long, sweeping eyelashes. She is now Mrs. Elmer Waskowsky.

Time was quickly slipping past, and I wanted to meet some of the others before dinner was over. LORAIN BRINKMAN, I learned, was a full partner in the farming business. Knowing her quiet, calm manner, I asked her if she ever got upset. "Seldom," she replied, "unless you count the times the cows are responsible."

CLASS PROPHECY

Another farmer in the crowd was ART SCHNARRE. He firmly believes that farmers "ain't what they used to be." RICHARD LeVEQUE, "lover of good coffee," has the coffee concession at Wrigley Field in Chicago. He says that he gets more pleasure from the coffee than from watching the Cubs.

I noticed MARTY LAKE, very subdued and somber, in a black suit. I was certainly surprised when he told us that he was in the undertaking business; he very graciously stated that he would be the last to let us down. And I was even more surprised to learn that ALAN FRIEDEWOLD was Marty's press agent. As Alan would say, "Its my job to dig up business."

Definitely, there was no stopping the odd and surprising enterprises which my classmates had entered into. Imagine TOM ALLISON, for instance, in the false teeth business. But that is what he does—with his shop located in Kankakee. Or picture, if you will, GORDON GRISWOLD operating a pretzel factory. Then top this with NORMAN HAYHURST as the Chief Twister. Then, too, there is DWAYNE FRANCOUER who operates a barber shop, specializing in G. I. haircuts. It was not particularly surprising, though, to learn that THERESA DAUPHIN now owns a good share of Walgreens.

The hours had slipped past, and it was time for the program. RICHARD MARTIN, more familiarly known as the "Kissing Senator from Illinois," acted as toastmaster. Before he would even begin the program, however, he insisted on introducing his secretary. Surprise heaped on surprise! It was DELORES FRISCH. This was the last thing any of us expected—including Delores.

The program started with "DOLLY" FALKENHAN'S orchestra accompanying MARGE KIRCHNER, who is a torch singer for the hand, in two beautifully-done vocals.

After Marge had finished singing, Chud then introduced SHARON and DAREL. They did a scene from "Hamlet", which had but recently closed on Broadway. They both did a grand job. They had recruited the services of ARMELIA CASTONGIA for make-up. Armelia owns her own cosmetic salon in Kankakee.

Then came the final number on the program. It was well received. After a good build-up by Chud, LESTER SHREFFLER did an act as a ventriloquist. He is now touring the country with his act.

As good-byes were being said and everyone was preparing to go home, I decided to count noses and see if all my old classmates had attended. I could count only 47, and, after making inquiries as to who was missing, I learned that LOIS JOHNSON had been unable to attend the reunion. She had made a previous engagement to instruct a class in music appreciation at Olivet College.

The day was long and packed full of surprises and I wearily but happily trotted home. Now I am writing the closing lines of my diary for today. So you see, Dear Diary, it has been a wonderful day.

DISTRICT SPEECH CONTEST

The District Speech Contests were held at Calumet City on February 26. Entrants from Bradley who participated in these contests were Darel Hale, Sharon Smith, Marge Kirchner John Flemming and Marilyn Kerr. All the Bradley entrants earned the right to go to Streator to the Sectional Contests by placing either first, second, or third in the District. The placings of those from Bradley were as follows: Darel Hale placed first in serious reading and second in oratorical declamation; Marge Kirchner placed third in original oration; Sharon Smith was third in verse speaking; John Flemming was third in extemporaneous speaking; and Marilyn Kerr placed second in humorous reading.

At the Streator Contests, Darel Hale placed first in oratorical declamation and earned the right to participate in the State Contests held at Champaign. All the dramatic and speech entrants from Bradley were coached by Miss Agnes Stelter.

The Dramatic Club and Thespians joined hands several times throughout the year to present assemblies. During the year, the Seniors presented a three-act comedy, "Pigtails." Included in the cast were Darel Hale, Sharon Smith, Pearl Wulff, Marge Kirchner, Doloras Falkenhan, Pat Hasemeyer, Frances Sanor, Jim Hunter, Al Grill, Mary Lou Meents, Delores Frisch and Glen Ziegle.

HOMECOMING DANCE

Imagine yourself now entering a land of soft music and dreamy romance. Add to it gaiety and laughter, and the pleasure of renewing old acquaintances. It is the Homecoming Dance.

Outside the ground is covered with snow and there is a crispness in the air which causes noses to tingle and brings a rosiness to our cheeks. Before we have reached our rendezvous, we can see the glittering lights in front of our school gym. This is our High School and this is our Alumni Dance for 1948. We hear strains of music floating out through the open doorway; and as we enter, we seem to blend into that atmosphere of friendliness. The colorful red and white decorations and a soft light from the festive canopy make this an easy task.

It seems such a short time until the orchestra begins to play "Now is the Hour" and all eyes are focused on the two main entrances. From these portals come the boys and girls who make up the processional court—each fellow a member of this year's gridiron team; each girl a member of this year's Junior or Senior class.

The formally gowned young ladies walk gracefully down the aisle and form a diagonal line opposite their partners. At the end of the procession, on the arm of Football Captain Bob Honzik, comes Miss Jacqueline Gustin, our Alumni Queen. She is attended by her court composed of the Misses Sharon Smith, Betty Jo Sears, Lila Book and Elaine Pilcher. The royal procession passes through the opening between the two columns and takes its place upon the stage, thus forming a huge "V". The crown is carried by tiny fairy-like Carolyn Kirchner. She presents the crown to Bob and he in turn places it upon the head of the Queen. Then, amid the hush of the crowd, the royal party smiles happily for the cameras. The recessional is played, and the entire court leaves the floor, to return in a short time and accept well-deserved congratulations. The Queen, very radiant in her red and white gown, is the object of many admiring glances as the dancers continue to sway to the rhythm of the music.

And then, all too soon, the clock strikes the first strokes of midnight, and the lilting strains of the final waltz bring us to the realization that all things, no matter how perfect, must come to an end.

G. A. A.

Under the able guidance of Miss Elizabeth Fiene and aided by the following officers, President Doloras Falkenhan, Vice-President Pat Hasemeyer, Secretary-Treasurer Mary Lou Meents, the Girls' Athletic Association, better known as the G. A. A., has had a successful and spirited year.

A hike was taken to the Indian Caves, with each girl bringing her own lunch. After dark, we proceeded home singing favorite songs.

One of the most progressive sports of the year was the volleyball tournament. The various teams were captained by, Sharon Smith, Doloras Falkenhan and Margery Kirchner. With vigorous workouts, Sharon Smith's team came out victorious with three wins and no losses. This volleyball tournament brought out good sportsmanship and athletic ability.

As an extra-curricular activity, a bowling team was formed. The bowling night was set for Wednesday of each week, and the various teams held an average high of about 125. High score of the tournament was 177, bowled by Catherine Boudreau. The team later took part in a telegraphic bowling contest.

As the year advanced, many social events took place, one of which was something new and experimental. With the aid of Mrs. Book, Mrs. Smith, and Mr. Crank, an exciting square dance took place at the gym. This folk dancing was followed by refreshments. During the holiday season, the G. A. A. joined force with the Home Ec Club to sing carols, then afterwards exchanged gifts.

When the winter season arrived, the G. A. A. began their indoor sports; and in the reigning sport of basketball, the G. A. A. produced many teams with good competition. In order to raise funds to send two girls, as representatives from, G. A. A. to a summer camp, the Club sponsored a Mardi Gras. During the spring season, softball teams were organized, and many good teams were produced.

Here's wishing a growing and progressive future, to bring about better sportsmanship and an ably trained club.

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to our sponsor, Miss Fiene, for her untiring efforts in trying to put forth another better and more successful year.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The 1948-49 football season was one of the most successful ever enjoyed by a Bradley team. Rolling up an impressive total score of 215 to their opponents' 38, our gridiron men scored more points than has ever been scored by a Bradley team in a single season. The team wound up the season with six wins, one tie and one defeat.

The season opened with Bradley running roughshod over Crete to the tune of 26-0; then, the following week repeating the performance, with the same score, against St. Anne.

The one black mark on the record is a 6-0 defeat by Lockport, but successive victories—38-0 over Wilmington, 39-0 over St. Pats, and 59-0 over Reddick—again brought bright and sunny skies.

The team, by eking out a 21-20 win over Momence, emerged as Kankakee Valley Champions. In the last game of the season, our fighting eleven held a strong and aggressive Georgetown to a 6-6 tie.

At the end of the season, a football banquet was held at which Coach Wagner presented major letters to Joe Metschuleit, Pete Geraci, Lou Rapp, Al Grill, Bob Honzik, Vincent Potrzebski, Richard Martin, Denny Rasmussen, Tom Allison, Glen Ziegler, Ed Hayes, Joe Wertz, Jack Thaden, John Lesczewicz, Gerald Decker, Francis Pochauer, Marvin Gereaux, Charles Pierson, Leonard Vaughn, Ralph Palmer, Ralph Marcotte, John Wilkins, Donald Dionne, and James Topliff. Mr. Wagner can be justly proud of his first year at Bradley.

BASKETBALL

The Varsity basketball season started off with a bang this year as Bradley, in its first game, romped over Crete, 50-31. This winning streak continued for three more successive games with wins over Manteno, St. Pats and St. Anne. After losses to Kankakee, Blue Island, and Momence, the Boilermakers finished their regular season with only one other loss—St. Anne edged out a 42-40 win in the second overtime to take the Kankakee Valley Conference.

Under the able guidance of Coach Jepsen, the team won all conference tilts to bring home the Kankakee Valley Conference trophy. In addition, the red and white brigade emerged victorious in the Calumet City Christmas Tournament.

In the Regional tournament at Watseka, the Boilermakers defeated St. Pats and St. Anne, then met Kankakee in the final round. They bowed to Kankakee on the short end of a 52-36 count in a hard-fought battle.

Regular lettermen on the Varsity squad were Jim Hunter, Joe Metschuleit, Denny Rasmussen, Richard Martin, Joe Wertz, Ed Hayes, Jack Thaden, John Lesczewicz, Marvin Gereaux, Gerald Decker. Manager for the team was Glen Ziegle.

The Frosh-Soph squad, coached by Mr. Wagner, coasted through an undefeated season on the hardwood, winning a total of sixteen games. Paced by regulars Ronnie Dusenbury, Dee Sando, Ralph Boggs, Dick Burkhalter, Leon Marlaire, James Toppliff, James McFarland, Tom Craig, Dick Cannon, and Dale Monty, the boys ran up 774 points to their opponents' 364. They were under the management of Al Grill.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

At a school election in December, 1940, it was voted that a new high school be constructed, to be called the Bradley-Bourbonnais Community High School. Since January, 1941, Bradley High School has been operating under that name. The new school will operate under the same title.

In 1942, a tract of land, approximately ten acres, on North Street between Prairie and Center Avenues, was purchased. An architect was hired and plans for the new building were begun. The plans were almost complete when all work was discontinued until after the war. When the war came to an end, new blueprints and new plans were made, and a different architect was hired. On August 10, 1948, the ground was broken and the building was finally under way. The laying of the cornerstone took place on September 25, 1948.

The new school contains six spacious classrooms, two commerce rooms, a study hall-library (with table-chairs), two science rooms, and a large homemaking room. Besides these, there are two separate offices for the principal and his secretary. There is to be a work-room where the duplicator, mimeograph and other items of this sort are kept. Lockers are to be placed in the main corridors. The shop is in another building with the heating plant. There is also a combined auditorium and gymnasium that will have a seating capacity of 2,400. It will be a school of which we can be proud.

SPRING SPORTS

After the close of the official basketball season, the Boiler-makers migrated from the hardwood to the cinders. The track season opened on April 7 when Bradley met Herscher on the home track. After engagements with Crete and Momence, the boys journeyed to Normal to participate in the Normal Relays. Then Kankakee, Herscher and Bradley met in a three-way battle at Kankakee. On May 6, relays were held at Urbana; then the following week, Kankakee was the battleground for the State District Meet. The Kankakee Valley Conference contest came next. The final track event of the season was the Illinois Interscholastic Meet held at Champaign on May 27. Major letter owners in this year's track events were Joe Metschuleit, Tom Allison, Edward Hayes, Jack Thaden, Charles Pierson, John Leszczewicz, Norman Jensen, Tom Craig, Richard Burkhalter and Ronald Thornton. Glen Ziegler filled the office of manager for the track team.

The baseball season was opened when Bradley encountered Momence. Throughout the season, the baseball team battled St., Anne, Peotone, Kankakee, Grant Park and St. Pats. Lettermen coming back from last year's team were Denny Rasmussen, Ray Burkhalter, Richard Martin, Jim Hunter, Al Grill, Lou Rapp, Pete Geraci, Edward Hayes and Gerald Decker. The baseball manager was Leonard Vaughn.
